Number one for number one.

Squash: a very special game played by very busy people. And if it means as much to you as we think, you owe yourself the little extra of playing with the best: Bancroft.

Why is Bancroft best? Experience. We make more squash racquets than anyone else (almost more than everyone else) and we make each one with great care and precision. A dozen basic models—each available in the handle and balance of your preference, and weights for singles and doubles play.

Bancroft. You owe yourself. Here are five favorites:

ESC Composite—Our finest. Fiberglass reinforced with steel. A carbon-copy of our "alive" Competition Model tennis racket.

Executive—Many top-ranking players prefer its bamboo-ash construction with patented, centered "sweet spot". Fiberglass at critical stress points.

Competition Model—For those who prefer a steel shaft for reduced wind resistance. Plus weight in the head for extra power.

Super Winner—Bamboo-ash for strength with nimble, light feel. Favored by many national champions.

Player's Special—Flat, tapered shaft makes it the shot-maker's choice. Fine bamboo-ash construction and can be very lightweight.

MARYLAND STATE SQUASH RACQUETS ASSOC.

Dear Squasher:

The 1973-74 Maryland State Squash Racket Association season will not only include our expanding local activities but will also feature the national tournaments to be held at the Naval Academy in February.

Haswell Franklin, Chairman of the National Singles Tournament, has been hard at work in preparation for the tournament. I strongly urge all of you to lend your support and assistance to Haswell and by all means take advantage of seeing the top squash players in the country.

The Association is sponsoring a youth squash program under the co-chairmanship of Doug Talbott and Tom Reilly. Doug Talbott has been connected with squash for a number of years in various cities and has been particularly active and successful in the development of younger players. Doug and Tom promise a very active program which includes team matches, a home and away series with Philadelphia, and an exhibition by Hashim Kahn, one of the greatest, if not the greatest squash player in the country. I urge any of you who are interested in having your children participate to contact either Doug or Tom. I look forward to the development of the younger players through the program thanks to the efforts of these men.

The gals' squash activities are increasing as exemplified by this year's National Woman's Doubles Tournament being held in Baltimore. I know all the gals will give Margaret Riehl support in this endeavor.

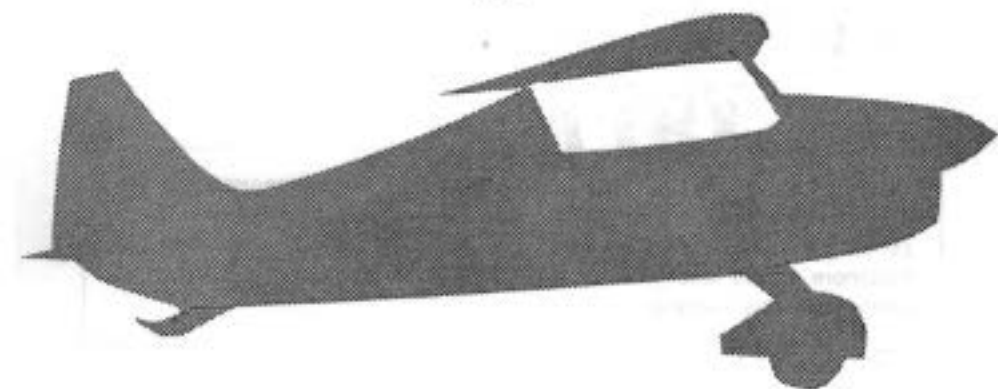

Whitney Smyth and Bob Hicks have done an excellent job with the second annual publication. They have spent many hours producing what I am sure all will agree to be a most informative yearbook.

Bill Lamble and his committees were solely responsible for producing an excellent National Doubles Tournament and a most enjoyable weekend. This year Joe Lacy is chairman of the Baltimore Invitational Doubles Tournament being held in March. This tournament coupled with the National Singles Tournament in February plus our other State tournaments means we all can look forward to an active and interesting 1973-74 squash year.

My best wishes for a successful season.

Sincerely,

Francis G. Riggs
President, M.S.S.R.A.

A LOOK BACK...A LOOK FORWARD

What will surely prove to be one of the MSSRA's busiest years in squash gets underway in October with the beginning of league play and the junior program. Another sure indicator that the new season is here will be the popular Baltimore Country Club Invitational Doubles held in early November.

The 1972-73 season was active and exciting, a good warm-up for this year.

The ladies hosted a National tournament for the first time last year and they'll do it again in 1973-74. The tournament dates are December 7-9. Drop around to the Racquet Club to see the best women in the country competing against each other.

Navy swept to the finals of the State Singles last January with Craig Dawson beating Randy Fisher for the crown. But the most exciting matches of the traditional MSSRA Banquet Night were the Women's and Class C singles.

Ann Monahan, of Arlington, Va., beat Baltimore's Nancy Miller 3-1 in women's play. But this was the closest final in the event we have ever seen.

Tom Schweizer and Frank Riggs present a gift to Bill Lamble for his work as U.S. National Doubles Tournament Chairman. Tread Ketcham is on the right.

Final round action: Pierces versus Zug-Neiderhoffer.

Tim Schweizer would like to forget the C singles final. He had Stuart Janney 10-4 in the fifth game before losing the match.

The U.S. National Doubles came to Baltimore in late March. Tom Schweizer, of Baltimore, and Ed Hahn, of Philadelphia, fresh from a victory in the Canadian Senior Doubles, seemed a good bet to capture the National Seniors. They reached the semi-final only to lose by one point in overtime in the fifth game to Jinx Johnson and Jack Bolling. Johnson-Bolling lost in the finals to Victor Elmaleh and Tread Ketcham.

Joe Lacy, who won five of six local doubles tournaments, teamed with Sandy Martin to defeat the Michigan State champions in the first round of the Nationals. Lacy-Martin gave the top-seeded Pierce brothers, of Philadelphia, a tough match before losing 3-1 in the quarters. The Pierces eventually lost in the finals to Jim Zug and Vic Neiderhoffer who were playing together as a team for the first time.

The growth in squash activity continues steadily in Maryland among both men and women. The Association now has well over 200 members, and there are at least 50 women who play squash in Maryland. A junior program, highly successful last year, is entering its second season.

In addition to a women's National tournament this year, the MSSRA will sponsor the National singles and team matches at the Naval Academy and will then host its own National Invitational Doubles Tournament.

One sad note: Southey Miles, a squash playing member of the Baltimore Country Club and Maryland Club, died of a cerebral hemorrhage this year while on vacation in Austria. He was 52 and was the donor of the Women's Singles Bowl.

THE NATIONALS: A BIG CHALLENGE

By Haswell M. Franklin, chairman

1974 USSRA Singles Championships

Over the weekend of February 15-17 and on Monday, February 18, our Maryland State Squash Racquets Association will host the 1974 National Singles championships.

Who will ever forget 1963 when we last held these matches? Remember the pulsating five game semi-final between former National Champions, Henri Salaun and Harry Conlon, and Washington's dramatic 3-2 win in the team finals; and then there was the emergence of a new star on the squash horizon in the presence of Victor Niederhoffer.

To hold championships like these is a monumental job since actually four separate tournaments - the national singles, veterans, seniors, and team matches - are being held simultaneously and there is also the responsibility for entertaining countless players and friends of squash from all over the North American continent. Some persons have said our Association isn't interested enough in the game on a big time basis to support an undertaking of this magnitude, but I believe they are wrong. Nearly fifty percent of our membership has already volunteered to make this the finest squash tournament possible. I appreciate this vote of confidence in Maryland squash, and you can rest assured that with your support we will succeed.

Most of you will be asked to be a sponsor for the tournaments. This is really the key to our financial success which after all is essential. Our expenses for the weekend are projected at close to $25,000. Each player participating will pay a racquet fee, but this will only underwrite less than half on the monies needed. In return for being a sponsor ($100.00) you will receive the following:

- (1) Reserved seat at either court one or two for all matches through the semi-finals with preferential seating for the finals of all four tournaments.
- (2) Open bar Friday night, plus cocktail party and dinner dance Saturday night.
- (3) Lunches Saturday, Sunday, and Monday plus Sunday party.
- (4) Player souvenir of weekend.
- (5) Special recognition through listing in program.

It is not often that you get an opportunity to see the Niederhoffers and the Salauns play, especially with National championships at stake, and I know all of you will enjoy this rare privilege. Let's give our visitors the finest possible memories of hospitality in the "land of pleasant living!"

1973 FITZGERALD CUP

Baltimore rallied from a 6-4 deficit to defeat Washington 7-6 in the annual Fitzgerald Cup matches played in Washington, D. C. in January.

The victory was Baltimore's 12th in the 25-match series. It marked the first time Baltimore had won the cup on Washington's courts since 1955.

Tom Schweizer, Peter Parker and Jim Hense all won 3-2 matches in the last three positions to provide the margin of victory. Other Baltimore winners were Mickey Webster, Bill Rice, Gil Rothrock and Peter Wolff.

In the photo below, provided by Tom Schweizer, we get a look at the contestants in the 1957 Fitzgerald Cup match won by Washington 9-4. How many people can you recognize?

JOE LACY: MR. DOUBLES

Joe Lacy's record in doubles during the past two years is, like his entire game, a model of consistency. He has won 9 of the last 10 Maryland doubles tournaments in which he has played, and he has combined with six different partners to put this streak together.

Last season Joe won five of six tournaments in which he competed locally. In addition he and Sandy Martin reached the quarter-finals of the U.S. National Doubles which were played in Baltimore. Off their performance in this tournament, Lacy-Martin are sure to be ranked near or in the top ten in doubles nationally.

Joe Lacy strokes one against the Pierce brothers as Sandy Martin watches. Pierces won in four.

Joe is the reigning Maryland State, Maryland Club, BCC Invitational, Racquet Club Invitational and BCC Mixed Invitational champion. His only loss came during the finals of the BCC club tournament to Jim Lacy and George Doetsch.

A native of Baltimore, Joe graduated in 1954 from Loyola College where he captained the tennis team for two years. After two years in the service, he joined his father's company, James J. Lacy Co. which manufactures iron castings. He became president in 1958 and started another corporation, Joseph J. Lacy, Inc., in 1965. Last year the firm acquired Pennsylvania Bronze in Harrisburg, Pa.

Always interested in racquet sports, Joe started playing squash after the service. He joined the Maryland Club in 1960 and won his first major State championship in 1963. That year he and Jack Miller won the State doubles over Bill Lambie and George Doetsch.

Until 1965 Joe played a lot of singles, but then a congenital back problem flared up making it difficult for him to endure the constant bending and turning that singles requires.

Over the years he has developed a doubles game based on patience, keen anticipation and an ability to keep his opponent off balance with a mixture of short shots and lobs.

"Patience is a big part of my game," he said, "but that's not all there is to doubles. You have to be tough and competitive, you have to watch your partner all the time and communicate with him, and you have to pick good partners."

He picked communications up early in his doubles career when he played frequently with Jack Miller.

"I didn't know anything about doubles then," he said, "and Jack would speak up and keep telling me things such as to move up, go back or cover."

Communication was a key to the later success of Joe and his older brother, Jim. Together they won seven straight Maryland doubles titles and then broke up after the 1972 season with their string still intact.

"Jim is a very smart player and he is definitely the best clutch player I've ever seen in this area," Joe said.

Joe's current partner, Sandy Martin, has made remarkable progress in doubles during the past two years. Together they plan to play in several tournaments outside Maryland this year, including the Merion Invitation in Philadelphia, the Nationals and perhaps a New York event.

"With a little more experience, Sandy could become a top-ranking player," Joe said.

Sandy teamed with Joe for three local titles last year, including the Maryland State, Maryland Club and BCC club. In the Racquet Club Invitational Joe won with Bob Voelkel and in the BCC Mixed Invitational he won with Margaret Riehl.

Two years ago Joe won two of his five championships with Mickey Webster as a partner. He also won with Bob Voelkel, Jack Morrison and Jim Lacy.

ART POTTER AT NAVY

The Maryland State Squash Racquets Association has had a long and pleasant relationship with the Naval Academy through its squash coach, Art Potter. The Navy team was 15-2 last season and finished third nationally.

The following commentary on Navy squash and on Mr. Potter and his son, Art Potter, Jr., is taken from the foreword to the former's well-known squash manual.

Associate Professor Arthur M. Potter, Retired U. S. Naval Reserve Commander, has been the Head Squash Racquets Coach at the U.S. Naval Academy for the past twenty-three years. His Squash Racquet teams have won 222 and lost 46 matches. As interim varsity tennis coach, his teams won 22 and lost 12 matches.

The Naval Academy Squash Team has won the National Collegiate Title three times and tied for the title in two other seasons. Seventeen midshipmen have achieved All-American and four have been Rhodes Scholars. Mr. Potter attended the University of Pennsylvania, Maryland University, Springfield College, and the University of Delaware and has B.S., M.S., and M.D. Degrees. In 1958 he was chairman of the Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium Fund Raising Committee. Since 1965 he has made research studies of the military physical education and sports programs in Europe, Great Britain, Japan and the United States for the Navy. He is the author of several research monographs, a tennis manual, and a widely read squash racquets book. The National Intercollegiate Squash Racquets Tournament trophy is known as the Potter Trophy.

Commander Arthur M. Potter, Jr., USN, Naval Aviation (Carrier Based), B.S., USNA, 1953; USNPG School, 1958-59; Johns Hopkins University, 1959-61. Service: Graduated USNA June 1953; Naval Aviation Flight Training 1953-54; Airborne Early Warning Squadron Twelve, 1955-58; Carrier Antisubmarine Squadron 39, 1961-63; Aircraft Handling Officer, USS INTREPID (CVS-11), 1963-65. USNA NAV SCI COURSE HEAD, 1966-68; C. O. VAW 116, 1968-70. Air Officer 1970-72 USS INTREPID; STAFF COM FLT AIR QUONSET, 1972; Naval War College, 1972-73.

Commander Potter, Jr., was intercollegiately ranked in 1952 and 1953. He captained the 1953 team that tied for National Title and won six varsity letters in baseball and squash racquets. He was Maryland State Badminton Champion and won East and West Coast Navy titles in squash and badminton.

He has periodically served as USNA Plebe Squash Coach and as Assistant Varsity Squash Coach.

INTER-CLUB LEAGUE

C. Pickett Riehl, chairman of the league, reports that competition between the five league entries will get underway "around October 11" although a specific evening for the matches has not yet been determined. Play will begin at 5:30 P.M.

Pickett said the league will end in December when the top team will be crowned the champion.

Team captains are:

Baltimore Country Club	Al Weaver
	(539-5881, 377-6636)
The Johns Hopkins University	Bob Hogan
	(366-3300 - Athletic Dept., 243-1949)
Maryland Club	Bud McNicholas
	(539-0787, 889-2912)
Racquet Club	Barrett Freedlander
	(539-3240, 728-5333)
Towson YMCA	Pickett Riehl
	(342-5773, 377-7344)

CLUB TOURNAMENTS

At the Baltimore Country Club, Jim Lacy won the Class A singles and doubles titles. He defeated Has Franklin in singles and he and George Doetsch beat Joe Lacy and Jack Morrison in the doubles. It was Joe Lacy's only doubles loss in a Maryland tournament during the past two years.

In the Country Club's Class B and C action Joe Fitzpatrick proved to be a better C player than B player. He lost the B singles title to Jim Goodyear but then turned around to beat Jim for the C singles crown. Joe and Tom O'Donnell combined to beat Jim Goodyear and Joe Cowan in the B doubles.

Ed Cooper and Evans Smith beat John Horst and Todd O'Malley for the C doubles while Joe Lacy and Sandy Martin won the member-guest over Henry Ciccarone and Fred Smith.

Downtown at the Maryland Club, A.C. Hubbard, Jr. upset Jim Lacy for the singles title. Jim was runner-up in doubles too as he and Frank Riggs lost to Joe Lacy and Sandy Martin.

Frank Riggs, the MSSRA president and a fine sportsman, must have felt like Avis last year. He was runner-up in the State B singles, the State A Doubles, the Maryland Club Doubles and the Racquet Club Invitational Doubles. In addition, he was runner-up in the Maryland Club B singles, losing to Stuart Janney.

In Class C singles Emil Budnitz beat Bub McNicholas and in doubles Peter Van Dyke and Edgar R. Kent, Jr. downed Stuart Janney and Tim Schweizer, II. Class B doubles has not yet been completed.

Lawrason Riggs, Jr. beat Frank Brooks to win the D singles title.

The Racquet Club held two doubles tournaments, one a ten-day model of efficiency, the other a four-month affair which almost was cancelled.

Bob Hicks ran the Invitational Doubles and the matches were completed within ten days. John Riehl threw a terrific party after the final match. The honored guests were Joe Lacy and Bob Voelkel since they won the tournament with a 3-0 triumph over Frank Riggs and Whitney Smyth.

The Club's own doubles tournament dragged on for four months. Jim Hense and Whitney Smyth defeated Bob Hicks and Alex Sotir 3-1 for the championship.

At the Towson YMCA, Peter Wolff won the A singles over John McCleary. Gene O'Connor captured the A ladder.

Although there was no B tournament, the ladder was won by Mel Keller. Pickett Riehl swept both the C tournament and the C ladder.

In D competition, Gifford Beaton took the ladder while Norton Gettes was the tournament winner.

Scott Jordan, of the Y, reports that a summer tournament is now in progress and that he and Pickett Riehl are meeting in the semi-finals to see who plays Art St. Martin for the championship.

JUNIOR PROGRAM IN SECOND YEAR

On Saturday mornings at 8 A.M., when most of us are still rubbing sleep from our eyes, a group of interested men and eager youngsters will gather at the Racquet Club in Roland Park to play and learn squash. The scene will be repeated each week this year from October until early Spring to provide encouragement and support for the development of junior squash players in Maryland.

The program begins its second year on October 6 and is being conducted under the auspices of the MSSRA. Designed for boys and girls from age 12 up, the program features professional instruction, court time, and State and National competition.

"The objectives of the program are to expose these youngsters to squash and to provide them with good instruction," said Tom Reilly, an organizer of the program. "Hopefully a long range benefit will be to enable some of these players to receive financial aid to college on the strength of their squash ability."

Mr. Reilly, along with Dr. Doug Talbott, were instrumental last year in starting the program. Eddie Scheaffer provided the instruction.

Community support of the effort has been excellent. John Riehl and Bob Voelkel provided the facilities at the Racquet Club, and Art Potter, the Navy squash coach, has supplied a film and some squash instruction manuals.

In addition, John Warzycki has been teaching youngsters to play on an informal basis at the Baltimore Country Club for several years.

One result of the junior program last year was that attendance at the Saturday sessions, which last from 8 to 10 A.M., was greater at the end of the year than at the beginning. This is indicative of the level of interest as well as the fine guidance provided by Eddie Scheaffer.

The atmosphere of the Junior Development Program is low-key and fun. Competition is secondary. Sparking an interest in squash among the youngsters is of prime importance.

Expansion is one of the goals of the program this year. The plan is to involve more clubs such as the Maryland Club, Towson YMCA, Baltimore Country Club and the Columbia Squash Club in the activity. The addition of these groups plus another from Harford County will enable strong and varied inter-club competition.

Along with inter-club competition, the Baltimore program plans to seek matches on a junior level with other cities such as Philadelphia.

Interesting secondary schools in the program so the students can play at one of the clubs during gym time is another objective this year.

There are also special events to interest the young players. Last year these included a trip to the Naval Academy to watch the Intercollegiate Tournament. This year the program organizers will sponsor a visit from Hashim Khan. The great Detroit professional is expected to play exhibits and give instructions to the junior players during a weekend that will be announced at a later date.

Although only in its second year, the junior program is expanding its horizons. One of the reasons for the program's initial success and for its hopes for the future is the financial support it has received from the squash playing community.

1972-73 Winners of the James J. Lacy, Jr. Award as Best Junior Player: C. Warren Black, III, and John H. Riehl, IV.

WOMEN'S SQUASH

The caliber of women's squash in Maryland is progressing rapidly. A contributing factor in this upswing is the desire of the women to travel to other cities for competition and to sponsor national women's tournaments in Baltimore.

On December 7-9 the State Association will sponsor the Second Baltimore Invitational Women's Singles and Doubles Tournament. This event is sanctioned by the United States Women's Squash Racquets Association and is run by Maryland women.

Also during the upcoming season the women will run the National Veteran Women's Doubles in Baltimore. This tournament will be held March 8-10 and is sponsored by the USWSRA.

Maryland women are also becoming increasingly active administratively on the national level. Sally Shand has been elected president of the USWSRA for 1973-74, Helen Lacy has been named to the Ranking Committee, and she and Margaret Riehl are now on the USWSRA's National board.

In addition, the women plan a number of squash excursions to tournaments outside the State this season.

In recapping the past year we find that newcomer Ann Monahan, of Arlington, Va., won the State singles crown 3-1 over Nancy Miller. This was a close match and the best singles final the women have ever presented. Ann teamed with Dale Philippi to beat Margaret Riehl and Helen Lacy 3-1 for the State Doubles title.

In team play, Racquet Club No. 1 nipped B.C.C. No.1 for its second consecutive title.

The first and highly successful Invitational Singles and Doubles Tournament sponsored by the women found Ginny Akabane defeating Gail Ramsey 3-1 for the singles championship. Both women are from Philadelphia.

In doubles, the Philadelphia tandem of Irma Brogan and Mary O'Toole defeated Baltimoreans Margaret Riehl and Sally Shand, 3-0 in the finals.

The consolation singles winner was Dale Philippi who beat Nancy Miller, 3-1. Both women are from Baltimore.

A total of 12 teams participated in the doubles matches, including some of the top-ranked women competitors in the country. In singles, 22 players participated.

A five-women team from Baltimore captured the class B championship of the Women's Squash Racquets Tournament held in New Haven, Conn. Baltimore took the title by beating Boston and Philadelphia by 3-2 scores. Team members were Ann Monahan, Dale Philippi, Nancy Miller, Sally Shand and Margaret Riehl.

MARGARET RIEHL HONORED

Margaret Riehl, a major contributor to the rise of women's squash in Maryland, has recently been honored by the United States Women's Squash Racquets Association. The USWSRA awarded Marge its 1972 Achievement Bowl for "her enthusiastic and devoted work for the development of women's squash."

As mentioned in the women's article, Marge has been named to the National Board of the USWSRA along with Helen Lacy of Baltimore.

As a spokesman for women's squash in Baltimore and as a tireless worker on behalf of squash here, the MSSRA would like to join the USWSRA in saluting Marge for a job well done and recognition richly-deserved.
